

Dear Friends,

The vibrant energy of this newsletter tells you that we are ready to celebrate our birthday with one extraordinary party. And that's just what we're up to...

Join Las Patronas as we celebrate 60 years of giving at club6oh!, a unique nightclub experience where all the "buzz" originates. Come discover the scene and let the 50 ladies of Las Patronas show you the way. club6oh! promises you a very good time.

We must thank all our early underwriters, donors and advertisers. Las Patronas has longstanding relationships with many of you but we also embrace our new friends, who are just now discovering our important mission. We welcome and thank you all so very much. Without your generosity and support Las Patronas just couldn't do the work that we do...empowering San Diego based nonprofits and providing critical-need items for their continued work in our community.

We are grateful to all the wonderful people at the La Jolla Beach & Tennis Club. Without their continued hospitality, the Jewel Ball wouldn't have its magic.

Thank you to Alison, Kathryn, and Vicki, my friends and advisors. The three of you make every day a party.

The 50 ladies of Las Patronas, however, are the real stars of the evening, as they are at the core of what the Jewel Ball is really about... raising more than $11 million for very deserving nonprofit organizations. This year we celebrate both our prolific past and our exciting future.

So...if you're all about great company, hot dancing, fabulous food, and a sizzling good time, you know where to find it!

Hope to see you at club6oh!

2005 Spirit of Giving Award

Las Patronas honors Bowers Jewelers, our friend of 60 years!

Each year, Las Patronas presents the Spirit of Giving award to that partner in philanthropy who best embodies its ideals of giving. For 2005, Las Patronas presented the award at its annual Beneficiary Luncheon to Bowers Jewelers.

Bowers owners Sheila and Larry Combe were on hand to receive the award, which honored a relationship that spans an amazing 60 years. Since 1946, Bowers has stood by Las Patronas as an advertiser, donor, and friend.

LP is deeply grateful for its relationship with Bowers, marked not only by its longevity but by its continued commitment to the values embodied by the Spirit of Giving throughout San Diego.

And in recognition of another valued partner, Las Patronas recently announced the intended reipient of the 2006 Spirit of Giving award. For the past 15 years, the good guys from Chism Brothers Painting, led by owners Pat and Mike Chism, have suited up in their painters' duds and come to the LP warehouse to help us "erase" last year's Ball and turn the page to the new Jewel Ball theme.

Year after year, Chism Brothers Painting shows up with spray guns and smiles, and donates their services on this very pivotal day. We are happy to honor their generosity and their Spirit of Giving!

Our 2006 Major Beneficiaries

Our beneficiaries are at the heart of everything we do....

These nine organizations have gone through a thoughtful, rigorous process to become major beneficiaries of the 2006 Jewel Ball.

Every applicant for a Las Patronas grant must submit a proposal for a critical capital need that includes financial documents, multiple bids, and written support for their need, and they are all visited by a team from the Las Patronas Grants Committee for an interview.

The site visit is the most important part of the process, as it is here that we become acquainted with the incredible good so many non-profits are accomplishing across San Diego County.

Choosing our recipients is difficult, as the need is great and growing every year. Each year we turn down many viable, wonderful organizations, but this only serves to motivate us to work ever harder on their behalf.

1 Partnerships With Industry provides vocational training, job placement, and job-retention services to adults with developmental disabilities by bringing together businesses and workers with disabilities. Funds from Las Patronas will provide a cargo truck to transport projects from businesses to their four locations in San Diego County.

2 The San Diego Repertory Theatre produces adventurous programming that explores key spiritual, political, and cultural values vital to our community, in partnership with artists and audiences who reflect the dynamic diversity of cultures, ages, and economic means that characterizes the population of San Diego. This Las Patronas grant will allow the theatre to upgrade to a new 40-telephone system.

3 The San Diego Symphony Association is a dedicated complement of professional musicians, administrative, fundraising and marketing experts, and volunteer leaders who are committed to providing a broad range of musical experiences of superior quality to people of all ages throughout San Diego. The Las Patronas grant will fund percussion instruments.

4 The Museum of Contemporary Art San Diego functions as a cultural center and forum for the exploration of contemporary arts and ideas; an art museum collecting, preserving, presenting and interpreting the art of our time; and a research laboratory for artists and audiences. Las Patronas will fund a Personnel Lift/Aerial Work Platform System that will be used for art installation and maintenance of their facilities.

5 The Scripps Clinic Department of Hematology and Oncology has physicians and staff who understand that facing cancer and working toward recovery can be a very difficult experience – for patients and their loved ones. Support from Las Patronas will provide 12 comfortable medical recliners, 12 swing-arm television units with headsets, and a commercial icemaker to expand their treatment capacity.

Major beneficiaries receive grants exceeding $15,000.

6 The Brother Benno Foundation is dedicated to distributing the generous gifts entrusted to them by the community in order to serve and uplift the dignity of those in the North Coastal San Diego County community who are in vital need. This grant from Las Patronas will purchase a 15-passenger van for use in transporting men to and from alcohol and drug recovery programs.

7 The Senior Gleaners of San Diego County are volunteers, aged 55 and over, who give their time and labor to harvest surplus food from gardens, fields, groves, and regional supermarkets for the hungry and poor. Las Patronas will give them a box van, enabling them to more effectively glean food for their program.

8 The mission of the San Diego Center for Children is to promote the wellbeing of children, youth, families, and communities by providing an array of proven and effective mental health, education, and social services. Their vision is to enrich the community by nurturing, strengthening, and empowering the family. Las Patronas will provide computer workstations to prepare students for a successful return to community schools.

9 The American Red Cross ~ San Diego/Imperial Counties Chapter is a volunteer-driven organization that provides relief to victims of disaster and helps people prevent, prepare for and respond to emergencies. Las Patronas will provide funds to purchase a Disaster Action Team van that is designed to carry specialized items of assistance to help victims of disasters.

Special Grants

The unprecedented support and generosity of our underwriters and donors made Jewel Ball 2005, Wrapped in Moonlight, a record-breaking success. We are deeply grateful to all our friends for providing us with the opportunity to fund three special grants. Based on timing and need, Alpha Project of San Diego, Walden Family Services, and the Whittier Institute for Diabetes were selected for immediate funding from our pool of major applicants.

The Concept:

Raise $$ for a good cause.

The Means:

One fun party.

The Results:

Over $11 million raised to fund critical capital needs in San Diego County.

Here's to the Next 60 Years!

If the shoe fits...Founding member Kathryn T. McReynolds samples a size seven shot of bathtub gin. We wonder what ever happened to the gal with the bottle!

In 1946, a group of 14 women came together with a common goal: to do some good in this world while sharing friendship, fun, and camaraderie. This was the birth of Las Patronas, and of the very first Jewel Ball.

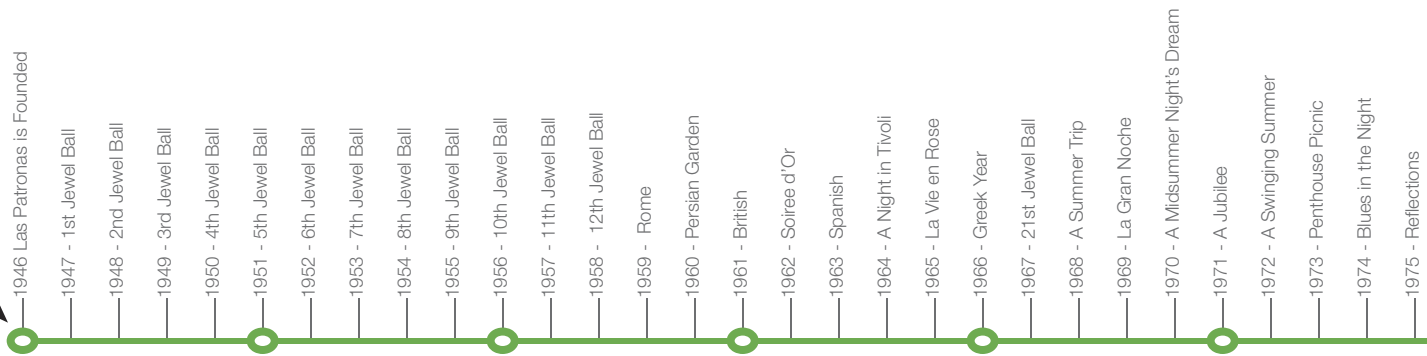

The more things change, the more they stay the same.

Minutes from the very first Las Patronas meeting could've come from any Las Patronas meeting during this 60th year: everyone had a million different great ideas, but everyone agreed that the party "had to be fun."

Las Patronas has evolved over the last 60 years along with the role of women in general in our society, and we've embraced technology like a long-lost friend with a closet full of shoes in our size.

What's amazing is that while they were having such a good time, our founders, in their wisdom, set forth a framework for our organization that has allowed us to adapt and be flexible while remaining, at heart, unchanged.

The Jewel Ball is still our primary fundraiser, and we still do the work

Las Patronas is committed to providing financial assistance to non-profit organizations in San Diego County that provide valuable community services

Since 1946 we've learned a thing or two about throwing a hot party.

Jewel Ball 2005, Wrapped in Moonlight ourselves, starting more than a year in advance. Our grants are still the heart and soul of our work, and we still conduct site visits to each applicant.

We've grown over the years to encompass a group of 50 women serving six- or seven-year terms, each bringing a special skill set to an organization that utilizes them all to the fullest, and we all share the same goal: Throw the best party in town, raise the money, give it away.

At the end of our terms, we become "advisories," because to call us "inactive" would be an oxymoron. Many retired Las Patronas members go back to their lives feeling like they've been through graduate school, trade school, boot camp, and therapy combined – exhausted, but enriched by the experience. That so many of us go on to serve as board members or executives in the nonprofit sector shows how much our beneficiaries come to mean to us all.

And the longevity of our beloved Las Patronas is a testament to the passion this group feels for its mission. It's what keeps us going for six years, and beyond. That, and the smokin' hot party.

Happy Birthday, Las Patronas! Rock on!

We deeply regret any omissions caused by publishing deadlines.

Thank you!

It is only through you and your partnership that we are able to fulfill the Las Patronas mission of providing much-needed help to nonprofits throughout San Diego County. We can't do it without you! Thank you for believing in us, and for standing by us through sixty years of giving, sixty years of caring, and sixty years of helping our friends and neighbors right here in our community.

From Our President

Dear Friends,

For an amazing sixty years, our small band of 50 compassionate, committed women has embraced a major metropolitan community, touching countless lives. Given the staggering changes in San Diego over six decades, as well as our changing roles as women, it nearly defies explanation that this volunteer crew could survive and thrive for so long.

I marvel at the staying power of this organization. I salute every one of the women who has carried our mission in her heart, and passed it on to a new generation of Las Patronas members.

Our families, because of the demands and rewards of LP, have been loyal extensions of the process.

This journey has been anything but solo. Just as we are inspired and challenged by ever-growing need, so too, are we driven by your trust and support. Together, we've chosen to help, because we can. It feels good, but more importantly, it feels right.

Whether you are a faithful, decades-old friend of Las Patronas, or a new friend helping to move us forward, we simply could not do it without you.

Happy 60th and many, many happy returns.

Gratefully yours,

Vicki Eddy
